Facts to be Remembered About the LaGrange College

Note the faculty—all of them experienced, well trained teachers.

Note the curriculum—well arranged and of standard grade.

Note the corps of music teachers—all graduates and with experience.

Note the course of study in music—the oldest high graded course in the State.

Note the course in harmony—unequalled by any college in the State.

Note the advantages in sight-singing, free-hand drawing, reviews in grammar, arithmetic, geography—none similar in the State.

Note the course in pedagogy—in an institution where the student has the best collegiate advantages.

Note that the college has unequalled advantages in voice culture.

Note that the rate of tuition is lower than any of the colleges of similar grade in the State.

Note that we do not call our music department a conservatory—there are no conservatories, in the true sense of the word, in the South. This is the best graded music school.

Note that LaGrange has one of the largest Pipe Organs in the State with a highly competent teacher.

Books and stationery may be secured from Leon P. Smith, generally at a lower rate than they can be bought elsewhere—never at a higher rate. In all cases they are to be bought for cash, and parents should either send to him or President Smith or leave with the student enough money to pay cash for such cash articles. They will in no case hereafter be charged upon the College books and sent out with the bills. Money may be deposited with Leon P. Smith for this purpose. Such books as may not be in hand will be ordered by him for the students if they pay for them in advance.

The Illustrations

The illustrations shown in this Bulletin are some that were not ready when the May number was issued. For views of the other buildings, etc., see the May number. Several notable improvements, not shown in any of the views, will be ready for the fall term. Among others, the old garden will have a wide walk across it to Vernon street, and on each side there will be tennis and basket ball courts. The swimming pool has been used during the summer and will afford both pleasure and exercise to the students next term. It is planned to do considerable overhauling in the old dormitories.

A VIEW OF THE NEW HAWKES BUILDING, showing the College gardens. Just where the garden is there will be a wide walk from where President Smith is standing to the building, on each side of which there will be prepared this Summer new tennis courts and a basket ball court.
